SECOND DAY AT DOYLESTOWN FAIR BREAKS RECORDS

Attendance is Estimated at 22,000. Which is Highest On Record

RABBIT & CAVY SHOW

Horse Stall Full of Moonshine Whiskel is Discovered

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Sept. 26.—Featuring the second day of the seventh annual Doylestown Fair attended by 22,000, a record Wednesday attendance, was the rabbit and cavy show sponsored by the Philadelphia Rabbit and Cavy Association, and the placing of awards.

Described as the largest rabbit and cavy show of the East the fall show bids fair to become the outstanding one of the country with breeders from many states competing. The show this year was managed by Marshall W. Taylor, of Doylestown.

Other highlights today included the discovery of a horse stall full of moonshine whiskey secreted among the raring stables on the east end of the fair grounds. State Police unearthed fifty gallons bottled in every conceivable type bottle bearing various labels, the owner if he could be found. Confirmed delivery today to the attendants in the horse stables. Nearly with twenty more gallons but the owner was missing.

Dr. H. W. Turner, president of the fair association, ordered the "wet goods" removed to the county prison and issued orders for police to arrest the owner if he could be found. Concessionaires who did not live up to the standard of requirements of the fair were also ordered from the grounds today.

Yesterday was also "Politicians' Day" and county candidates of both parties rubbed shoulders together and made themselves known. The Republicans heralded the coming of United States Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, who will be the principal speaker here next Saturday at a meeting of the Bucks County Republican committee.

Today will be "Big Thursday" and "Doylestown Day" when last year's record attendance of 40,000 will in all probability be shattered. There will be four elaborate harness racing events.

Tonight there was a joint meeting on the grounds of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs of Bucks County.

Judging in the hog show was completed today. The big winners in the Berkshire class were Kite and Son, of St. Paris, Ohio, and National Farm School, Doylestown. In the Chester Whites the leading winners were Fate and Son, of Edison, Ohio, and A. D. Lawrence, of Quakertown. The Duroc Jersey show was won by William Gunnels, of Illinois, with one of the finest herds of the United States, with National Farm School carrying away several "firsts". In the Poland China class William Gunnels, of Illinois, and Walter Jackson were winners.

The "first" awards in the rabbit and cavy show were placed yesterday as follows: American Blues, C. R. and M. H. Reamer, Philadelphia; American Whites, C. R. and M. H. Reamer, Philadelphia; black and tan, Taylor's Farm, Doylestown; Dutch Black and Dutch Blue, Robert M. Scott, Torresdale; English Black, David L. Jones, Lansdale; English Blue, W. J. Seyfried, Phillipsburg, N. J.; Black Flemish, W. G. Eastlack, Conshohocken; Gray Flemish, Granville Sterner, Quakertown; Steel Gray Flemish, James Hoopes, West Chester; Sandy Flemish, William Unruh, Germantown; White Flemish, Robert M. Scott, Torresdale; Havannas, Taylor's Farm, Doylestown; New Zealand Red, Frank W. Ashton, Andalusia, Pa.; New Zealand and White, C. R. and M. H. Reamer, Philadelphia; Checkered Giants, Silver Martins and Russian Sabies, Taylor's Farm, Doylestown; Polish, Robert M. Scott, Torresdale; Standard Chinchilla, John A. Morrison, Parkersford; Heavyweight Chinchilla, Harvey B. Metz, Lansdale.

Cavies: English Dutch and English Red, Ernest B. Schultz, Worcester; Himalayan, Clarence D. Haedrich, Philadelphia; Silver Axonit, Ernest B. Schultz, Worcester; Self Silver and Self Golden, H. S. Bristow, Codars, Del.; English Tortoise and White, Walter S. Scott, Philadelphia; Peruvian A. O. C. and white, Clarence D. Haedrich, Philadelphia; Abyssinian, English White and English Black, Rosedale Caviary, Pittsburg, Pa.; Golden Agouti, Clarence D. Haedrich; Laboratory Pen, Norman Wismer, Mechanicsville.

The dog show judging was completed late today. Harold J. Barnet, of Doylestown, won first male and champion male of the show with his Llewellyn setter. The first female and champion female was won by Frank Sweigart, of Buckingham, with a beagle hound. Other "firsts" in the dog show were: Pointer, male, W. Erdman, Jr., Buckingham; beagle hound, Marshall W. Taylor, Doylestown; beagle hound (Continued on Page Four)

BOY SCOUT WRITES OF MOHAWK AWARD TOUR

Describes Interesting Trip Which Successful Winners Enjoyed Recently

Each year the Camp Committee of the Bucks County Council gives as an award to the four Scouts showing the best advancement along all lines of Scouting at camp, a special trip to the Springfield Exposition at Springfield, Mass., at which Exposition there is a mammoth display of Scout craft presented by the New England Boy Scout Councils under the supervision of the camping department of the Boy Scouts of America.

The trip this year consisted of many more interesting sights than was possible for the Scout who wrote the following descriptive article. The educational value to Scouts seeing Scouting in other sections of the country has proven of great worth during the past two years. In addition to living up to the Scout Oath and Laws while at Budo, it was necessary for the individual who won the award to achieve success in all phases of Scoutcraft while at camp.

One Scout was selected from the Indian Village, one from the Stockade, two from the Scout camp and a Junior Staff member, who had done the most cooperative and satisfactory work during the 1929 season, which was won by James Townsend, program orderly.

Mr. Livermore and five scouts including myself left from Langhorne on Wednesday. We stopped at the Trenton Capitol, which is a very beautiful building, and we also visited the Trenton Barracks. In the Barracks are the original flooring, etc., that was there during the Revolution. The furniture is of the Revolutionary period also. We then continued on through New Jersey through the Palisades. The Palisades are huge cliffs rising 200 feet above sea level. We got a wonderful view of Bear Mountain Bridge which is one of the largest bridges in the world. We also saw at Tompkins' Cove many large ships made by the United States to carry cargo during the World War. They are for sale but meanwhile are deteriorating rapidly. We intended to see Colors at West Point but due to the fact that we ran out of gas we were too late. We did see "Guard Mount" however, which was a very snappy review. A boy from Doylestown, Charles Horner, Jr., is a cadet there and he was kind enough to explain certain procedures of West Point. He showed us through the new mess hall and kitchen. The food served is very wholesome and appetizing as well as plentiful. The food is cooked on a very big scale. Potatoes are cooked by the sacks full and other food in proportion. The discipline at West Point is very strict. If a student gets low in studies or returns from a vacation late he is often made to walk along the plaza from anywhere to 50 hours as punishment. As we were coming up the Hudson we saw a beautiful yacht. Later we learned that Mayor Walker had been on it and going to see Colors at West Point.

LEGION MEMBERS WILL REPEAT THEIR CARNIVAL

To Continue Fete on Friday and Saturday Evenings of This Week

HAD BAD WEATHER

Due to inclemency of the weather, attendance at the lawn fete of Robert W. Bracken Post, American Legion, was held down considerably and the committee in charge has decided to again attempt to stage the fete on Friday and Saturday of this week on the Refiners Oil Co. plot, Pond and Market streets, and the highway.

If the weather does not permit or is not considered favorable further efforts will be called off but as the weather man promises much warmer weather this week it is the thought of the committee that the attendance will be much larger.

As the proceeds of this lawn fete are to be used in staging the dedication day parade to be held on October 12th it is hoped that citizens will patronize this effort and by doing so make the dedication day exercises a success.

Two of the finest drill teams in the East have already accepted Bristol's invitation to attend the dedication and the present outlook is very bright for the largest parade in the history of the borough. Don't forget to attend the lawn fete on Friday and Saturday and tell your friends.

GIRL OVER WHOM MAN WAS SHOT VISITS POLICE CELL

Vera Brennan Spends Several Hours With Milton Morris Until Bail is Arranged

FORD'S CONDITION GOOD

Gunshot Wounds in Man's Breast Not of Serious Nature

The love of two men for the same girl is held responsible for the shooting yesterday of one of the pair of male lovers at a North Radcliffe street home.

The victim of the shooting, Thomas J. Ford, Hotel Strathmore, 12th and Walnut streets, Philadelphia, is still in the Herriman Hospital. He is rapidly recovering from the wounds inflicted in his chest when he was struck by a load of splatter shot from a shotgun behind the closed door of the home of Milton W. Morris.

Morris, in a statement to the police, openly accused Ford of endeavoring to alienate the affections of Vera Brennan, a former sweetheart of Ford's, who for the past several months had been bestowing her affections upon Morris.

"Vera and Ford were engaged to be married six months ago," says Morris. "But the engagement was broken. Vera has since that time been going with me. Ford has pestered her with correspondence and telephone calls."

Then, according to Morris, while Ford and the girl were engaged, Ford paid a hospital bill for the Brennan girl which amounted to $500. "After that or about the first of July she came to live at our house," states Morris. "Ford continued to write to her but she ignored his letters. Ford went to Philadelphia about two weeks ago and Vera called him on the phone to tell him not to bother her any more. He asked her to come to the Strathmore to meet him. I took her there and she met Ford."

Then Morris continues by explaining that Miss Brennan had endeavored to sever her relationship with Ford but all to no avail. "He came to our house Tuesday and I was upstairs. Vera called to me that he was down there."

Ford then, evidently, left the Morris home and returned, according to his own statement yesterday shortly after noon. He had a friend telephone to Morris that he was coming, he says. "I went to the front door and called to Morris to let me in. Bang!—there was a report and I was shot," he concluded.

Ford in his statement to the police does not mention the Brennan girl.

Miss Brennan is a comely-looking girl of about 25. She visited Morris in his cell at the police headquarters yesterday afternoon and spent practically the entire time with him when he was incarcerated there. She was attractively dressed.

Miss Brennan wore a green velvet dress with a Bertha collar. Her skirt was shirred in front and she wore tan stockings and slippers, and white kid gloves. A green felt hat completed her costume.

Miss Brennan is of slender build, weighing about 110 pounds, and is about five feet and ten inches tall. She did not talk except to Morris and a friend who accompanied her and furnished $1,000 security for Morris's appearance when he is wanted.

Morris says that when Ford came to his house yesterday he tried first the back door and then the front door. "I called to him to keep away or I would hurt him," he says. "The gun which I had in my hand went off."

Ford received the load of shot directly in the chest. The shot was small and spread but did not penetrate deeply due to the fact that the door deadened their force.

An X-ray picture was taken at once and the physicians probed for the shot which was removed. Ford is not seriously hurt and he spent a comfortable night at the hospital, it was said today.

It is contended by the police that had the gun been pointed a trifle higher and the shot struck on a level with Ford's face the wounds would have been very serious.

"Had the door not been between that man and the gun, there would not have been any work for the doctors," it is said.

Morris after being released from the municipal jail here last evening went away accompanied by Miss Brennan and his friend who had furnished bail for his appearance when wanted.

Brownlee opened fire without hesitation, firing four shots pointblank at the pair. The one who had stuck up Ashworth fired twice at the cashier but missed when Ashworth dodged behind the counter.

STANDING STILL IS FATAL

It is significant that present-day analysis of industrial enterprises from an investment standpoint gives new and appropriate weight to what is being done in research and in foreign trade. Statisticians have been quick to realize that the extent of these activities means a great deal with respect to earning prospects.

Acknowledgement seems to be made that the time has gone by when routine methods of production and only cursory attention to foreign trade are sufficient to enable success in industry.

Many industries have now witnessed the upsets which have come through the perfection of a product or the creation of a new one, the scrapping of old for new types of merchandise and other changes wrought through research. Some of the mere backward companies have depended too much on reputation and prestige to carry them along, only to find themselves trailing a more resourceful competitor, awake to the practical possibilities of alertness and progressiveness.

This applies to communities as well as to their industries and commercial establishments. The city or town which rests on its laurels does not long retain its position of leadership. In the race for community supremacy there is no standing still. Those cities and towns which do not advance must retreat, industrially and commercially. Community progress is a battle never won, an up-hill climb never consummated.

CAN THE BUREAU DO THIS?

Cigarettes, carelessly cast aside in waste baskets, room corners and forests, annually cause a loss estimated at $90,000,000. It may be much more.

For years the world has been doing something about it. Efforts were made to make careless smokers careful with dismal failure. Every smoker knows the danger from discarded butts, and disregards it.

A newly invented cigarette which will not smolder after being laid aside solves the problem. Dropped or laid aside it quickly goes out instead of ruining the top of the desk or the window sill, or starting a destructive fire.

Smokers will not agree, however, this is the perfect flag from the viewpoint of inflammability. It has been the common experience of puffing mankind that if a cigarette is thrown away it sets fire to a forest, but if a cigarette is laid carefully upon an ash tray for a moment, it instantly goes out. Now that we have a cigarette which will go out on command, the next logical step is one that will continue burning on command.

The bureau of standards is credited with the invention of the improved cigarette. If it could devise a pipe which will burn down to the stem with one lighting, it would earn the undying gratitude of every pipe smoker.

It is well to use American dyes but why use them all in the same frock?

FROCKS OF SHEER NOVELTY WOOLEN CHIC FOR IMMEDIATE DAYS

ULTRA-SMART are the new zephyr-weight woollens. Everywhere in the realm of fashion style leaders are expressing enthusiasm for woollens of the newer sort, many of which are that sheer and dainty no one would think of even remotely associating them with the woolen "has-beens" of the long ago.

In this day of miracles, woollens have been touched by the magic wand of Twentieth century genius with the result that many of the modern weaves have been rendered as delightfully wearable in the summer months as during any other time of the year. So it is that a considerable part of fashion's program for the immediate months revolves about diaphanous woollens, such as are sure to prove a lure to every fashion-loving woman.

So far has progress been made in point of airiness and daintiness, some of the very newest woollens are truly lacy in their weave. Frocks of these woolen laces are tremendously chic and as yet distinctly exclusive.

In matter of patterning there is a merry war going on in the realm of modern woollens, as also among other fabrics, between stripes, plaids, checks and dots. Sometimes the plaids win, again the checks or dots while in the case of the swaggy daytime frock in the picture stripes come out victorious. The stripes on this sheer material, which is part rayon and part wool, as so many of the choicest weaves are this season, exploit the very genteel color combination of black and gray. A costume such as this will be found ideal for general wear.

Among the many delightful thin woollens exploited this season one of the most indorsed is wool georgette. Ensembles of this sheer woolen are especially desirable, for, while they present a trim tailored effect, they are cool enough for summer wear. These very attractive dainty woollens come not only in smart solid colors but they are also obtainable in stripes, also small almost invisible check patterns. A very new woolen material—just the thing for the making of the blouse to accompany the wool-georgette ensemble—is so fine and thin it quite resembles shantung. It is especially smart in the new eggshell tint.

One kind of woolen weave for the frock with a woolen of entirely different character, yet related in color, adds zest to this season's fabric vogue, such as a gray tweed coat flecked with violet with a violet georgette frock.

Increasing interest is also shown for printed wool challis, with emphasis on bordered patterns. The border, in fact, is making a definite place for itself in wool fabric design, the narrower trimming bands being best liked.

Springfield, Mass. We arrived there about noon. We went through the Armory where the Springfield rifles are made. We went through the exposition which represents all the New England states and all their products. That night we started to go on to Boston 100 miles away. We traveled on 'till 2 a. m. and then slept. The next day we went through Boston seeing the Bunker Hill Monument and the Old North Church. Next we headed for Pawtucket. From Boston we went to see Plymouth Rock which is a worthwhile sight. We then went to Providence, Rhode Island, where an aunt of one of the boys lived. Here we were treated to a very excellent dinner. We were forced to leave early in order to get well on our way towards New York.

We slept after passing New Haven that night. The next day we arrived in New York. We went up Riverside Drive viewing the Hudson River and the Palisades. We also saw the Hudson River Bridge which is under construction. We noticed that although the traffic in New York is tremendous, it is handled very efficiently. We saw the Yale Bowl and Stadium. At the entrance to the Yale Bowl is a memorial to Walter Camp in the form of a huge arch pillar. We went through the aquarium, the Museum of Natural History, the Botanical Gardens. We took a steamboat to the Statue of Liberty. We climbed up the spiral stairway and saw the New York skyline. We also rode up the elevator to the top of the Woolworth Building, the highest office building in the world. From there we could see Brooklyn, Ellis Island, and the Statue of Liberty. When we descended in the elevator the increasing pressure of the air could be felt in our ears due to the sudden descent. On Sunday we left New York and went through the Holland Tunnel, which is 80 feet under the surface of the river, into New Jersey. We had a highly educational and very enjoyable trip and I don't believe we will ever forget it.

KONJOLA ENDS STOMACH ILLS IN FEW DAYS

Lady As Amazed As Happy Over the Way New Medicine Worked—Pays Glowing Tribute

MRS. RUSSELL DANIELS

"I had indigestion for more than a year," said Mrs. Russell Daniels, R. F. D. No. 2, Uniontown, Pa., "and at times it was so acute that I could hardly bear the pain. What little I did eat soured and fermented in my stomach, causing gas and bloating that made my heart palpitate wildly. Finally I became nervous and had trouble sleeping."

"Impressed by the many endorsements of Konjola, I decided to give it a trial. After two bottles of this medicine my food digested perfectly. This seemed incredible, but as I continued with Konjola I felt better in every way. I had no idea that there could be such a medicine as Konjola and I heartily endorse it to all who suffer as I did."

Konjola is sold in Bristol at Hoffman's Cut Rate store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—(A.M.)

SKETCHES GIVEN OF ATHLETICS' INFELD

By Henry McEmore
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Fifteen years ago when the mighty Philadelphia Athletics last engaged in a World Series they sent forth to meet the Braves a $100,000 infield, the sum of $100,000 being about all the money in the world in those days. This highly-valued quartet, composed of McNamara, Collins, Baker and Barry, were a most powerful and efficient group and performed their work in flawless manner.

This year when Connie Mack chases his boys out on the field to meet the Chicago Cubs his infield will fall some thousands short of the 1914 inner defense in value, reckoning from what they cost Mack. And in all the discussion this year in regard to the strength of the present team with the 1914 American league champions, no one has dared to rate the current infield with the old-timers. For they are not as good.

But Connie has few fears that Fox, Bishop, Dykes and Boley will fail him. The boys have been doing a good job all year, both at bat and in the field, and should continue their season's pace through the big series.

Following are thumb-nail sketches of the 1929 edition of the Philadelphia infielders:

James Emory Fox—Born in Sudersville, Md., Oct. 22, 1907. Is rated as a veteran although not yet 22 years of age as he has been playing professionally for six years. Bats right-handed and throws the same way. Is 5-11 in height and weighs 185. Fox joined the Boston club of the Eastern Shore league in 1924 and served both as infielder and catcher. Went to the A's next season and was rated as a catcher for three years before being definitely assigned to first base.

Max Frederick Bishop—Born in Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 5, 1899. Attended school in Baltimore. Throws right-handed but bats the left side. Is 5-08 1/2 in height, weighing 155. Put in six years with Baltimore before going to the Athletics where he has played five seasons. Is considered a very tough gentleman to pitch to.

John (Joe) Boley—First saw the light of day in Mahoney City, Pa., July 26, 1898. Bats and tosses 'em from the right side. He is 5-11 in height and carries 172 pounds in weight. Joined Baltimore in 1919, remaining with the Orioles for eight seasons before being purchased by Connie Mack at the end of the 1926 season.

James J. Dykes—A home town boy, being born in Philly on Nov. 10, 1896. Bats and throws right-handed. Height 5-09. Weight 180. Graduated from the sandlots to the A's in 1917 but did not make the grade until 1919. Very versatile, having played every position on the team. This year found him playing second, short and third when the regular occupants were incapacitated.

Samuel Douglas Hale—Samuel was born in Glenrose, Tex., Sept. 10, 1896. Bats and throws right-handed. Height 5-08 1/2. Weight 163. Started his professional career with San Antonio in 1917. Shifted to the Alamo outfit and after three seasons with that club he was sold to Detroit. Following one year with the Tigers Hale traveled to Portland, Ore., where he remained until purchased by the Athletics in 1923.

James Jola Cronin—Born Aug. 7, 1907, in Oakland, Calif. Height 5-09. Weight 158. Signed by Detroit in 1925 and sent on option to Springfield, Mo., where he was released. With Idaho Falls in '26 and '27. Then to Little Rock in '28 and thence to Portland before coming to Philadelphia this year.

George Henry Burns—Born in Niles, Ohio, Jan. 31, 1893. Right-handed both ways. Height 6-01. Weight 180. After one year in the minors Burns joined Detroit in 1913 and has played in the American league ever since. Has spent five years with Detroit, two with Philadelphia and Boston and nearly seven with Cleveland. Was sold by the Indians to New York late in 1928. The Yankees released him this year and he was grabbed by Mack for pinch-hitting duties. Burns was voted the most valuable player in the league in 1926. Made an unassisted triple play in 1923 while with Boston.

HIGH SCHOOL NET STARS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

By T. M. Juno

Bristol High will renew acquaintances with Jenkintown High on the local field tomorrow. The teams have not met in four years and a renewing of gridiron relations always means a close battle.

Coach Townsend spent the entire past week in correcting the faults in the Newtown game. Besides that the mentor and his assistant, Paul Brown, have developed a wonderful defense for an aerial attack.

Scrimmage was held twice this week and the coach has several new faces to begin the game. Pat Moran was injured and was out for the remainder of the week. "Reds" Gallagher proved stronger than Collins as a guard and was promoted to that position. McCurry has also earned a varsity berth. The remainder of the line-up will see "Tex" Dries, "Paddy" Tullio, "Eddie" Kelber, "Joe" Alta, "Shad" Smoyer, Joe DeMilio, "Jake" Tranotti, "Reds" Lafferty and Johnny Raccagno, who has returned to the team after a layoff.

Game begins at 3:45 p. m.

HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN MEETS JENKINTOWN HERE

(By Arthur Rago)

The Bristol High School tennis team showed very good form Wednesday, which surprised the captain and organizer of the tennis club, Nelson Green, while playing against Morrisville High at the Elks' tennis court on Buckley street.

The teams broke evenly in both the singles and doubles.

Green defeated Fox, the Morrisville star, 6-1, 6-1, but Wells of Morrisville won over Wright 6-4, 6-2.

In the doubles Green and Hanson captured the first, defeating their rivals 6-3, 6-3, but the Bristol team, starting Fine and White, lost to Fox and Terluemke of Morrisville, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

Another double was being played but it was called on account of darkness. Wright and Leigh of Bristol were playing against Wells and Terluemke of Morrisville at the time.

CARD PARTY

A card party is to be held in the Elks' Home, Friday evening, October 11th, under the auspices of the February class of '31, Bristol High School.

Mrs. Clarence Gaw and children have returned to Baltimore after spending some time with relatives in this place.
